

What So Ever I Sow I Reap

“There is a chain of mind action connecting cause and effect in all the activities of life. This chain forged by man and its links are thoughts and words.” -CF

There was a time in ancient history when God was caught and put in a box. As consciousness grew so did God or the awareness of God through humanity. We have come a long way in our knowing God, but have we learned the Laws of God. In particular the Law of Cause and Effect? I hear the question asked again and again, “Why do bad things happen to good people?” Could it have something to do with Universal Law?
