

Be Free

Kirtana

The fishes are confused
In searching for the sea
Find what you can't lose
Be free

No where to go
No thing to know
Be before the questions start
And after answers fall apart
In your inmost heart

Not “was back then”
Not “will be when”
Now is where the secret lies
Open-ended as the skies
Before all thoughts arise

The bars are just a ruse
The prisoner is free
Walk out if you choose
No key

Not near, not far
Right here - exactly where you are
So stop the search
You are the one
You're running toward, running from
Let your kingdom come - right here
Be still

Jesus said be still and see
He said, "I am in the father
And the father is in me."
Be before the self divides
See beyond the ways it hides
Rest where truth abides
Be free

The fishes are confused
Find what you can't lose
Be free

Even Now

Erin McGaughan

Even now I am able,
even now I am free

Even now I can feel the Spirit
washing over me

Even now I can find the love in everyone I see

Even now,
even now I am free

Closer To The Light

Jim Beloff

Oh, from day to day, it's so hard for me to say
If the road that I'm on now will lead me right.

Ah, but year to year,
it becomes a bit more clear
Seems like I am getting closer to the light.

And when my burden's great,
so that I bend under the weight,
And it seems like I'm surrounded by the night.
Oh well, I don't mind traveling along this darkened road,
If I'm trav'ling closer to the light.

Piano solo

Every day I start,
with this compass in my heart,
And it helps to keep the road within my sight.
And as I go forth looking for magnetic north,
Seems like I am getting closer to the light.

And when my burden's great,
so that I bend under the weight,
And it seems like I'm surrounded by the night.
Oh well, I don't mind traveling along this darkened road,
If I'm trav'ling closer to the light.
