

Love To Tell The Story

I love to tell the story Thy faith my church proclaims
Of love and peace and justice A fire of many flames
I love to tell the story Because I know it's true
That when we work for justice We find the holy too.

Chorus: I love to tell the story! 'Twill be my theme in glory
To tell the old, old story: Of love in me and you

My church as but one temple Wide as the world is wide
Set with a million altars, Where a million hearts abide.
My church as but one doctrine Its one and only creed
To give my love to others In thought and word and deed

Chorus: I love to tell the story! 'Twill be my theme in glory
To tell the old, old story: Of answering their every need

I love to tell the scripture That I have found of worth
A bible that is loose leaf With words from all the earth
The word of God is present In all who do their part
To share the song of freedom That's written in their head

Chorus: I love to tell the story! 'Twill be my theme in glory
To tell the old, old story: The word in every heart

My church has no damnation It has no fear to sell
You need no fire insurance When you have no fear of hell
Not "people into heaven" As other churches shout
But "heaven into people" Is what we're about

Chorus: I love to tell the story! 'Twill be my theme in glory
To tell the old, old story: Love's in and fear is out
