

This Is The Day

Jaya Lakshmi

Here is the place where I fall into grace
And release into the sweetness of your love
I surrender, I remember
The light, and the beauty that I am

Here is the place where I fall into grace
And release into the sweetness of your love
I surrender, I remember
The light, and the beauty that I am

This is the day when I throw it all away
To the fire of the all loving one
Now I have just what I need
To be free to feel who I really am

This is the day when I throw it all away
To the fire of the all loving one
Now I have just what I need
To be free to feel who I really am
